Treatment Plant, Sewers Proposed in GC; To Cost $7.5 Million

A plan to build a secondary sewage treatment plant in Granite City at a cost of approximately $4 million and construction of interceptor sewers costing about $3.5 million was revealed today by Mayor Donald Partney.

Under the plan, the mayor said, Granite City would pay only 20% to 25% of the cost, financing the balance by revenue bonds. Such a program is made possible as a result of the approval in the Nov. 3 election of the $750 million Illinois bond issue to provide funds for control of water pollution throughout the state, the mayor said. Mayor Partney told the Press-Record he already has held preliminary discussions with federal and state officials and has been given approval of his tentative cost figures as the basis for more definite planning and engineering.

As soon as a detailed proposal can be developed, it will be submitted to the city council for approval so that a specific program may be worked out for planning and engineering necessary to application for federal and state grants.

Tentative Figures Acceptable
"I have talked with federal officials at Washington and was told that my tentative cost figures are okay," the mayor said. "I was encouraged to go ahead with the planning of the project and I am certain that funds will be available for the engineering cost which is necessary, of course, before the city puts up any money."

Mayor Partney said he had talked with representatives of the new Illinois Environmental Agency and that they indicated the state would provide financing of 25% to 30% of the entire cost out of the new $750 million bond issue to fight water pollution which was approved in the November election.

Financing, Partney said, would consist of 90% by the federal government, 25% to 30% by the state, and the remaining 20% to 25% by the city, depending upon the finalization of the program.

The mayor said the secondary treatment plant is not just an "extra" facility that is available through state and federal financing, "but is something we had better have within the next few years because of the increased demand for water pollution control."

Partney said he was told by state officials that secondary treatment of sewage by sizeable communities that have outlets into rivers (such as Granite City) will receive directives for secondary treatment in the near future.

Plant Addition
The proposed secondary treatment facility would consist of an addition to the present Granite City sewage treatment plant, built adjacent to the present plant, Partney said.

The proposed new interceptor sewer system would consist of additional lateral sewers increasing operations in the Granite City treatment plant, Partney added.

He said he has been reluctant at this point to discuss the program with the city council because of the council's tendency to oppose projects which he presents.

"I would like to have the project completely wrapped up before I present it to the aldermen," the mayor said.

"But regardless of how the council members may react, the matter of secondary sewage treatment is going to become a must" because of increased demand for water pollution control and additional directives similar to those several years ago under which cities and sanitary districts were required to build treatment plants," the mayor said. The mayor added that "there is no alternative but to go ahead with secondary treatment, and if we can get interceptor sewers under the same program, then Granite City will have a program at little cost that may never be available again."

Better GC Court or None—Beatty

Officials of the Quad-City area must provide more adequate magistrate court facilities or face possible removal of the court from Granite City, it was disclosed in a meeting of the Granite City council Monday night. The necessity of better court facilities was outlined in a letter directed to Mayor Donald Partney, among other areas of officials, by Chief Circuit Judge William Beatty of the Madison County Third Judicial Circuit Court, in which Judge Beatty said, "I do not think in good conscience that we can continue to operate the magistrate court (in Granite City) under the circumstances that now exist."

Judge Beatty's letter was presented to Granite City council members as a communication while Judge Beatty was sitting in the audience. When a council member suggested that the judge be given an opportunity to speak on the matter, Beatty told the council that "I am here on another matter, but if you have any questions about this I will be glad to answer them. However, I would be glad to take it up with the council committee at another time."

The council voted to refer the problem to the City Hall Committee which Alderman Sam Whitmer is chairman and Aldermen Everett Morlen and Roy Poulos are members.

Judge Beatty said that the council meeting later without disclosing the particular issue in which he was interested.

Better magistrate court facilities were asked in a letter directed not only to the Granite City mayor, but also to Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, John E. Lee, mayor of Venice; Thomas Staicoff, mayor of Pontoon Beach; Nelson Hagnauer, supervisor of Granite City township; Harry Briggs, supervisor of Nameoki township and Arthur "Copper" Moore, supervisor of Venice township.

The magistrate court in Granite City serves the Quad-City area permitting area police authorities to handle criminal cases on a local basis rather than traveling to Edwardsville for minor arraignments, bond settings and misdemeanor hearings. In addition, civil cases within jurisdiction of the magistrate court are held in the Granite City court. If there were no court here, the principals and witnesses would have to go to Edwardsville for trials.

In his letter to Granite City officials and those of Venice and Nameoki township, Judge Beatty said among other things that there is inadequate space for jury trials and for jury deliberations, and that the courtroom is too small. There is no privacy for discussions between the magistrate, attorneys of litigants, he said.

Judge Beatty told the officials: "I am sure you are all aware that the facilities used by the Magistrate Court in Granite City have over the past few years become increasingly inadequate for a number of reasons. There is inadequate space to conduct jury trials or for deliberations of the jury."

Lack Privacy
"The Magistrate has no office which affords any degree of privacy for carrying on discussions with attorneys or the party litigants, which should take place in private. The courtroom itself is entirely too small on those days when docket calls are held."

"Practically all of the people that pass through the Magistrate Court facilities in Granite City are residents and taxpayers of the Quad-City area, and of course it is in the magistrate court most people obtain their impression of the court system. I, therefore, think it imperative that these facilities be improved at the earliest possible time."

Zoning Fight Hits Development

By HARRY BARNES

Adoption of an ordinance that would have reclassified zoning on an 80-acre tract of land adjoining northeastern Granite City, clearing the way for its future development as a shopping center and apartment complex, was blocked in a meeting of the city council Monday night. A motion by Alderman Paul Schuler, chairman of the Ordinance Committee, to suspend the rules and place the bill on the calendar failed to reach a vote when Alderman Gerald Parnley moved for deferral.

A deferral motion automatically suspends all action on an issue during the meeting in which it is presented.

Because of the development of a second ordinance that would have provided for annexation of the tract to Granite City was not presented and is expected to be withheld until action is taken on the first ordinance to establish zoning classifications required for the proposed construction of multiple housing units and a shopping center.

In North Granite Area
The tract of land is located south of Pontoon Road and west of the right-of-way of the Alton & Southern Railroad crossing. It is owned by Leo Wolf, Granite City contractor and developer, who told the Press-Record that he plans construction of an apartment complex totaling 500 family units. The apartment units would be of varying designs—possibly including one or more high-rise units.

In addition, Wolf said, slightly less than half of the 80-acre tract would be used for construction of a shopping center occupied by a variety of businesses.

The request for reclassification of zoning to C-2 (commercial) in that part of the tract proposed for the shopping center, and to R-5 (multiple residential) in the section designated for apartment construction, was presented to the city council Monday night.

Woman Dies, 18 Hurt in Crashes

A woman motorist was fatally injured and 18 persons were hurt in 23 traffic accidents occurring in the Quad-City area since Monday.

Mrs. Della M. Hentzel, 72, of New Athens, died at 11:10 a.m. Tuesday in St. Elizabeth Hospital here of injuries suffered in a two-car crash on Route 111 about one-fourth of a mile north of Interstate 270 Monday.

Mrs. Hentzel, tax assessor of New Athens township, lost control of her northbound auto which skidded sideways into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Anna M. Strebel, 62, of Alton, southbound with three passengers, according to state police.

All four women in Mrs. Strebel's auto were injured. Passengers in the car were Mrs. Meloyde O'Neil, 25; Mrs. Edith M. O'Neil, 54, and Mrs. Emma J. Stahlhut, 24, all of South Roxana.

The five were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where Mrs. Hentzel died 16 hours later. She suffered fractures to both arms and complained of pains in the abdomen and chest. An autopsy was conducted to determine the cause of death.

Four Women Treated
The other four women received emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital and transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital in Alton.

Mrs. Strebel was treated for a slight laceration and a large bump to her forehead, abrasions to both knees and elbows and a chest contusion.

Mrs. Meloyde O'Neil was treated for swelling to her left thigh and knee which required a splint.

Mrs. Stahlhut received emergency treatment for a deep laceration to her lower right leg and a head laceration.

Mrs. Hentzel was appointed township assessor in November 1967 to serve the one year term of her late husband, William G. Hentzel, who died three years ago. Two years ago she was elected to a four year term, of which two years remain.

Madison Orders More Fire Plugs At High School

Installation of two fire hydrants at the rear of Madison Senior High School was authorized Tuesday evening by the Madison City Council which also voted to install two additional hydrants in Stephen Maers Industrial Park.

The Nov. 30 fire at Granite City High School prompted Madison fire department officials to evaluate fire-fighting conditions at the Madison school building. Fire Chief Eldon Rhoads reported.

The survey resulted in a recommendation by the fire department official that installation of two fire plugs take place immediately at the rear of the school building. Chief Rhoads noted in his report that the school cafeteria, shop area and boiler-room all are situated in the rear section of the building.

Concurring with the fire chief's recommendation, Mayor Mike Sasyk said at the present time only one fire hydrant, located in front of the school, is available to serve the senior high school.

The next closest hydrant is located three blocks away at McNair and Harris streets," he commented. "Under the present set-up, firemen would be forced to drag hoses around the building should a fire occur in the cafeteria or boiler-room areas," Mayor Sasyk said.

Should Act Now
The question was raised whether obligation to install hydrants on school property rests with the Madison Board of Education of the city council.

Clarification of responsibility will be sought, Mayor Sasyk said. "But I recommend we install the hydrants immediately and determine responsibility afterward."

Cost of installing hydrants and extending water lines was estimated at $500 per hydrant. Two other fire plugs authorized will be installed on the west side of Caine Drive and near the new Swift Co. plant. Both locations are in the Maers Industrial Park area.

Madison approved a request for the issuance of sealed bids to purchase three 1971 vehicles for the Madison police department.

The department's fleet of four patrol cars was reduced to three as a result of a serious accident three weeks ago in which Patrolman Voloski was injured. Police Chief Frank Durko explained.

During Tuesday's council session, the number of patrol cars in service again was pared, when a collision involving a police vehicle and a private auto occurred at Sixth Street and Washington Avenue.

Separate bids on each vehicle and a joint bid on all three will be accepted until Tuesday, Dec. 22. Two bids will involve trade-ins of 1969 and 1967 vehicles and one bid is being sought without a trade-in provision, Mayor Sasyk said.

Council members also approved a single bid received from McClair Asphalt Co. of Collinsville to supply 200 tons of bituminous patching material for road repairs, at a cost of $9 per ton. It was reported the bid was opened Dec. 1 in the presence of a highway department official.

In other purchasing transactions, six bids were opened from area dealers relating to acquisition of a dump truck for the city street department.

Bids received and referred to the council purchasing committee for recommendation, included Matthew Chevrolet, $6036; Brewer Motors, $5391; Butler Chevrolet, Edwardsville, $4929; B. Hohl, $5420; Courtney Motors, $5610; and Granite City Dodge, $5650.

Kirkpatrick Group To View Drug Film

An informational film concerning misuse and abuse of narcotics, provided by Coordinated Youth Services, will be shown Friday afternoon at the Kirkpatrick Homes recreation hall. The program is open to all interested residents of the housing complex and surrounding area.

Mrs. Jessie Cottrell, president of the Kirkpatrick Homes Improvement Association, said the film will be presented following a 1 p.m. pot luck dinner, also scheduled to take place in the recreation center. Those attending the luncheon are asked to provide a covered dish item, she said.

Pentagon Medic in Yule Mail Call

A local Air Force sergeant newly assigned to the Flight Medicine Center at the Pentagon, two brothers serving overseas and a Granite City Marine whose unit, the 3rd LAAM Battalion, two weeks ago received the Commanding General's Aviation Weapons Effectiveness Trophy, are among the servicemen listed in today's Yule Mail Call.

Area residents wishing to submit the name and address of a service member, stationed at home or overseas, are urged to do so immediately. These contributing the name, rank, serial number and full address of a soldier, sailor, coast guard, marine or airman are asked to write the details on a slip of paper or postal card and mail or bring the information to the Press-Record office, 1815 Delmar Ave.

The APO and FPO numbers must be included when applicable. If the area of service is noted, the information will appear in parenthesis following the mailing address.

Individuals, relatives, friends, church groups and service organizations are invited to submit names and addresses of Armed Forces members in the Yule Mail Call. Names will be published as they are received through Christmas week.

Assigned to Pentagon
Air Force Sgt. Dale H. Earhart, 22, recently joined the staff at the Flight Medicine Clinic at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C., after serving 15 months at Clark Air Force Base Hospital in the Philippines Islands.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Borer, 2615 Stratford Lane, and spent a 30-day leave at home before reporting to his new duty station.

As medical technician at the Flight Medicine Clinic, Sgt. Earhart will be responsible for providing medical services, such as immunizations, eye and hearing tests, treating minor ailments and assisting with physical examinations.

Patients referred to the Pentagon clinic are Air Force officers of general and colonel rank and pilots. The Secretaries of the Air Force and Defense departments and their top ranking staff members also use the clinic's services.

Sgt. Earhart was graduated in 1966 from Granite City High School and attended Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus for one and a half years prior to enlisting in the Air Force two and a half years ago.

Two brothers serving overseas in this Christmas season are Specialist Four James E. Monroe, stationed in Germany with the 33rd Airborne Brigade, and Private First Class John D. Monroe, with the 66th Transportation Company in Vietnam.

Recently promoted to the rank of corporal was Michael A. Boyd, a son of Mrs. Margaret Boyd, 2548 Lincoln Ave., who is based at Cherry Point, N. C., with the 3rd LAAM Battalion, 2nd Marine Air Wing.

Quad-City servicemen and women stationed around the world, whose names and addresses are being published in each issue of the Press-Record as a special pre-Christmas public service. It is suggested that readers clip-out and retain the lists as they appear.

Local residents are invited to include the servicemen on their Christmas mailing list and send greeting cards, letters or packages, thereby helping to brighten the coming holiday season for military personnel who are away from their homes and families. Early mailing is recommended.

of Granite City High School, joined the Marine Corps one month after graduation. His unit—the oldest Marine missile outfit—observed its 24th anniversary two weeks ago.

The 3rd Light Anti-Aircraft Missile Battalion has the mission of providing medium range air defense of installations or areas against hostile low and medium altitude targets.

On Nov. 24, the 3rd LAAM was presented the Commanding General's Aviation Weapons Effectiveness Trophy in ceremonies at Cherry Point, N. C.

The officers and men received congratulations from Maj. Gen. Astell, who stated, "Among the many accomplishments by the 3rd LAAM Battalion during the past year, the conduct of the annual Hawk Firex was particularly noteworthy. The swift and efficient manner in which the firex was conducted accurately reflects the skill and professionalism of the entire battalion."

More than 655 local families have applied for baskets through the Salvation Army's annual program, an increase of 117 over last year and the highest number of applicants since 1965. Lt. Donald R. Noyes, commanding officer, reported.

Donations to date have illuminated 128 lights on the Salvation Army Christmas tree in Memorial Park opposite St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Bellringers at the Army's kettles sites tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. will be members of the SA Home League with Granite City Rotarians staffing the sidewalk booths.

At the dinner the auxiliary elected officers for 1971. They are Mrs. Mary Kristian, president; Mrs. Margaret Lee, first vice-president; Mrs. Bea O'Connell, second vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Strauss, recording secretary. Elected to the board were Mrs. Dolly Gonzalez, Mrs. Sylvia Brylaw, Mrs. Catherine Pisel and Mrs. Nigel Maeras.

The dinner was attended by 75 members of the auxiliary. Entertainment was provided by Mark Gifford, Mrs. Margaret MacZura and Mrs. Alice Worthen.

Percussion instrumentalists chosen to appear in the concert are Phyllis Adams, Monte Jones, David Krohne and James McGuire. Donna Walton will perform on flute.

SIU-SW Gets $16,050 National Science Grant
Southern Illinois University-Southwestern has been awarded a National Science Foundation grant for science in the amount of $16,050.

This is the first time SIU-SW has been awarded a grant of this nature to be used by faculty of the academic programs in natural and social sciences, including research and education, according to John Rodman, coordinator of research administration.

He said the grant may be used for the purchase of books and equipment, the employment of additional assistants, and supporting "seed" money for new research or programs.

Health-tex

A real accomplishment, considering I can't even walk yet. I owe it all to my polyester and cotton permanent press knit creepers. The solid colors with embroidery and the stripes and patterns make me look so good and feel so confident. I just know I won't flap. Neither will mom on wash days, 'cause they need no ironing. Come to think of it, neither do I.

GCHS Among Favorites In 40th Pontiac Meet

Defending champion LaSalle and the fast-moving Bloom Trojans of Chicago Heights rate as the early favorites to win the 40th renewal of the popular Pontiac Holiday Basketball Tournament. Dates of the 1970 tournament are Dec. 28, 29 and 30.

LaSalle - Peru defeated Waukegan 69-60 last year to win the title and the defending champions have two regulars and a number of top reserves back from the team which reached the quarterfinals of the state tournament last year.

Bloom's Trojans are also well stocked with returning lettermen with a squad headed by all-state candidate Larry McCoy, a 6-5 forward.

Granite City, representing the strong Southwestern Conference, gained pre-tournament backing by defeating always powerful Collinsville on Friday night.

The Chicago area will again be well represented in this year's strong tournament field with Bloom, Waukegan, Lockport Central, Providence-St. Mel, Glenbrook West and Deerfield in the 1970 field.

New Tourney Entries

Three new teams - Aurora West of the Uptate Eight Conference, Springfield High of the Big 12 Conference and Cairo from the deep south - have been added to strengthen this year's field.

Cairo will be making its first appearance in the tournament and will set a record for an Illinois team by traveling 286 miles to compete in this year's classic.

Other teams returning for another bid for the title are: strong University High of Normal (the Pontiac area dark horse entry), Alleen of Rock Island, Streator, Sterling Community and host Pontiac.

Teams competing in the tournament will again be assured of playing at least two games. First round losers will compete in the consolation division of the meet.

Eight games will be played each day.

Tournament activities will get under way Sunday, Dec. 27, when the Pontiac Jaycees stage their annual banquet for officials, coaches and players of the 16 competing teams.

TWO POINTS FOR CHAMP—Summers (34), that is, who goes up for a basket in Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's game Tuesday as the local Cougars defeated the University of Missouri-Rolla 94-68. Roy Witthoft (14) is at right while Rolla's Rich Peters (55) and Chuck Ferry (45) go up for the rebound.

Cougar Quintet Defeats Rolla

Coach Jim Dudley's Southern Illinois University-Southwestern

basketball team, three-and-one for the season and on a three-game winning streak, faces a stiff test Saturday night at the Edwardsville High School gym when Concordia Seminary of St. Louis calls for an 8:15 p.m. game.

The Preachers of Concordia, who are currently 7-9 for the new season, will play Principia College Friday night warming up for the Cougars. In the past two seasons, or since the start of athletic relations between the two schools, Concordia has a 3-1 edge over the Cougars.

Coach Pete Pederson of Concordia scouted SIU-SW in the Cougars' impressive 94-68 victory Tuesday night over the University of Missouri-Rolla Miners. It was the Cougars' home opener and Dudley's charges, after trailing briefly in the early going, jelled and romped to a first-half 50-33 lead largely as a result of a terrific joint effort of SIU-SW's two guards, Denny Thorneburg and Rich Essington. Thorneburg, or Dadey Denny as the fans are beginning to call him, led all Cougar scorers again, this time hitting for 20 points.

Thorneburg, in four games, is hitting at a sensational pace from the free-throw line. He's made 36 out of 39 chances at the charity line. In the win over the Miners, he had all but four of 20 points in the first half. Essington made eight of his final 10 points in the first 20 minutes.

Otis Ward was next high for the Cougars as he enjoyed his best night of the young season with 15 points. Jerry Bloemer, Ward's teammate at Lake Land Junior College last year, was third highest Cougar point-maker with 13. Eric Gredell paced the losers with 16 points.

For some of the Granite City skaters it will be the first encounter with the long straightaways of the outdoor tracks. Hard sessions are planned during coming weeks with hopes of returning from Iowa with some medals.

The Gateway Club will charter a bus in January to take all of the members to the Hawkeye Open in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. It will be an outdoor meet on a six-lap track of natural ice.

Red Devils Trounce Livingston by 92-59

The Venice High School Red Devils trounced Livingston in a 92-59 basketball game Tuesday on the losers' court. It hit the Venice record to two-and-one.

The Red Devils held a comfortable 10-point lead at the quarter mark with a 20-10 score. At the half the Red Devil lead had increased by eight points and it was 42-24.

Venice continued complete domination in the third period by adding 22 more points, compared to Livingston's 16, to make it 64-40 going into the final stanza.

Forward Cedric Gardner led the Devils with 24 points. High for Livingston was center Meyers with 27.

The Red Devils shot 55% from the floor making 38 free throws and sinking 16 free throws.

Livingston committed 18 fouls and Venice 16, and Venice dominated the boards 3-1 with Gardner in command of the backboard throughout.

Coach Bill Ohlendorf said, "The game at Livingston made everyone happy as I was able to play everyone on the squad. We opened up an early lead and held it."

Scoring for the Red Devils were Doug Johnson, 18; Algie Smith, 14; Jim Ohlendorf, 13; Rich Gonterman, 10; Ray Mosby, 7; and Randy Sisson, 13. Dan Severs and Alon Bradley two each.

The junior varsity also won by an impressive score, 72-30. Venice travels to Lincoln of Brooklyn, Friday night. When asked about the forthcoming Lincoln game Coach Ohlendorf said, "Lincoln will be a real game."

"They beat us twice last year and they have the same hall club as we do. I would say Lincoln is one of the better teams in the area; but we plan to let them know we're around."

Reaming the basket with 55 points in the second half, Madison High School's basketball team swarmed over Dupo 101-71 Tuesday night on the winners' hardwood.

It was the first victory of the season for Coach Larry Graham's Trojans who had dropped the opener at Mater Dei a week earlier.

Trojan Forward Larry Boyd led the way with 29 points as Madison took immediate command with a 30-10 first quarter margin. It was 46-34 at the half and jumped to 78 to 53 going into the final period.

Following Boyd with double figures were Clinton Burkhal with 19 points, Ed Chandler 17 and Douglas Griggs 11.

Others seeing action as Coach Graham used his entire squad were Henry Rhodes with six points, Darrell Fletcher, Terrence Young and Ben Wilson, four each, Anthony Ragsdale, Parnell Glasper and Roger Glasper two each and Jerry Bedford one.

Leading Dupo were Marlen with 25 points, Wolf with 20 and Arras with 12.

The Trojan Jayvee team came through at the top of a 67-66 squeaker which was close all the way.

After an excellent meal, the group was entertained by different members of the Oriental Band.

On Tuesday evening the Band held its annual election of officers, with the following elected for 1971:

President, Orville Hommer; vice-president, Bernard Boston; secretary, Joseph S. Parks; treasurer, Carl Roach; director, Jack Grissom and manager, Avery Schermer.

Missouri Explosion Felt Here Last Night

Many Quad-Cityans were startled by a noticeable boom and tremor at 10:47 p.m. Wednesday, the time of a propane gas line explosion in the vicinity of New Haven and Washington in Franklin County, Mo., southwest of St. Louis.

Two houses and an area of woods burned and windows were shattered as far as 20 miles from the blast scene, but no minor injuries were reported. The boom was heard as far west as Kansas City.

MORE ABOUT Governor

chief legislative council, told the Press-Record.

The executive aid, William S. Hanley, said the state's election code provides for a vacancy following a conviction for an infamous crime. He argued that the vacancy is binding at the time of conviction, even though an appeal is pending.

Hanley further contended that when a question arises over the definition of a vacancy, the person charged by law—in this case Ogilvie—may act in his discretion to fill that vacancy.

Ogilvie set May 4 as the date for a special primary and designated June 22 as the special election day in Madison and St. Clair counties.

If Ogilvie's order prevails, the five newly elected board members will finish four years terms that expire Dec. 1, 1972.

Joseph John Prince, 67, of 1801 Iowa St., Madison, operator of the Sportsman's Club, located at the same address, died at 11:40 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He had been ill with cancer and recently was hospitalized, after suffering an apparent heart attack, at St. Mary's Hospital, Richmond Heights, Mo.

Mr. Prince was re-admitted to the hospital here two weeks ago. He was a native of St. Louis and a resident of the Quad-Cities 65 years. He had leased and operated the Sportsman's Club in Madison for 14 years.

Mr. Prince was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church of Madison; St. Cecilia's Lodge; Granite City Moose Lodge 27; the Madison County Tavern Owners Association; Bartenders Union, Local 208; and the Madison Lion Club.

Members of the Madison Lions will meet en masse at the funeral home at 7 p.m. today, a club spokesman announced.

Ramada Inn Planned

Construction of a Ramada Inn on a 21-acre site at the intersection of State Routes 111 and 140 is to begin within 30 days, it was announced yesterday. It will offer parking for executive aircraft virtually at the door to the guest rooms.

MORE ABOUT Zoning Fight

tion, previously were presented to the City Planning Commission, which recommended the zoning change.

The measure was supported on the council floor by Aldermen Emerald Daves and Thomas Baker, but drew opposition from several council members who demanded specific plans for drainage of the area. They cited drainage problems that have developed during the past years in subdivision areas and insisted that further drainage provisions be made.

Schuler, who introduced the ordinance, asked Kenneth Kleberger of Research & Design Associates, consulting city engineers, which direction drainage water would flow.

Kleberger said he had inspected the area and was satisfied there would be no flooding from construction because plans have been made to take the water into a drainage canal.

Have Drainage Problems
"We already have drainage problems," Schuler said, "do you have assurances that we won't have bigger problems from this?" Schuler asked Kleberger.

"I will have me on a spot," the engineer replied.

At this point, Mayor Donald Partney remarked that "it's our job to hamper the growth of the city, when a population loss which is going from our income, and we stand to lose money next year because of lower assessments."

"We have been looking into a number of things to help us build. I think we should approve these things that are going to make our city grow."

Partney told the council, "I want to see the city grow as much as anyone. But I don't want to flood out other areas that will force people to leave the city."

Partney then moved for deferral, halting any further action.

Wolf and his attorney, Leo Konzen, explained that plans for the development are yet incomplete, since proper zoning and annexation are the essential first step in making further plans.

Konzen pointed out, however, that matters of drainage customarily are a part of detailed planning and engineering and that these matters always go back to the city council for approval as the project develops.

Other Petitions Withdrawn
In a similar instance in which a deferral held up action on a zoning amendment for land on which a shopping center was reported planned, the request for the zoning was withdrawn Monday night.

The petition, seeking rezoning of a tract at Maryville and Pontoon Roads, was filed by the First Granite City National Bank as trustees for the land-owners.

Council members deferred action on the zoning amendment because they said they had no details of the project. A shopping center to cost about $2.2 million was reported planned.

Maurice Dailey, attorney for the bank, said in a letter to the council Monday night that "in view of the unexpected controversy concerning this matter... please be advised that the bank as trustee herby withdraws said petition and requests no further action be taken thereon."

GOOSE HUNTERS Sgt. Ronald Grzywacz and Patrolman Charles Bridick of the Madison police department brought home this trophy-sized honker after eight hours in a goose blind at Willis Hunting Club in Olive Branch about 10 miles from Cairo. This goose weighed 11 pounds and was one of the heaviest ever shot at the hunting club. The officers scored on another goose (seven pounds) and two mallard drakes.

Unbeaten GC Soccer Squad Wins 3 at Home

The Granite City High School varsity soccer team remained undefeated for the season after winning home games Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons against Gibault, Cleveland and St. Henry, respectively. The Warriors shut out St. Henry and Gibault with scores of 5-0 and 7-0. The only point against them was scored by Cleveland in a 4-1 game.

So far this season Coach Tom Wyrostek's squad has a record of 5-0 with six shutouts and only two goals scored against them. In the season they have outshot their opponents 160-36 and have had 33 corner kicks to a total of nine for their opponents. The total score is 41 goals for the Warriors, with only two scored against them.

Bobby Galvin leads the team scoring in points with 18 goals, including 10 assists. He is followed by Wayne Canada and halfback Jerry Duncan who each have seven goals to their credit and four assists. Carl Duke trails them with five goals and three assists.

In one of the easiest wins of the year, the Warriors rolled over Gibault 7-0 Monday, after taking 23 shots and allowing them none.

The wind was against Granite City in the first half of the game and ball handling was difficult. "We were having trouble with our crosses and having trouble moving back and forth in the wind," Wyrostek said. In the first period Carl Duke scored on a cross from Billy Bronnabauer, making the score 1-0 at halftime.

In the second half the wind was a helpful factor as the ball went into Gibault's net six times. The first score of the period came when Jimmy Forrester, assisted by Wayne Canada, found a hole in the Gibault defense to make the score 2-0. Soon after that Forrester got the ball to Jerry Duncan for the third.

Duncan took the cue from Forrester and assisted Wayne Canada for a score, and Canada put the fifth point on the board on a pass from Jimmy Forrester.

Demonstrating his versatility on the field, Jerry Duncan scored the sixth goal unassisted and then helped Galvin in making the final points.

Coach Wyrostek's team also defeated a tough Cleveland squad 4-1 in a home game Tuesday. "We gave them their worst defeat so far," Wyrostek said.

The first half of the game was scoreless as the teams sized each other up, but the second half was filled with action. Jerry Duncan got the first goal for the Warriors with a 40-yard unassisted direct kick.

Galvin Takes Over

Bobby Galvin then took over the game and scored the next three goals. His first came on an assist from Duke, but needed no help on the next as he hooked a 25-yard kick around a wall of players set up by Cleveland.

"It was one of the most beautiful shots I ever saw," Wyrostek said later. Galvin then completed Granite City's scoring with another unassisted goal.

Jimmy Conway was injured in the Cleveland game when he was kicked in the left ankle. It is unknown if he will play against St. Mary's on Friday, but Wyrostek was optimistic today.

Area Leaders to Attend Manufacturers Meet

Several area civic and industrial leaders will attend the 77th annual dinner meeting of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago this evening.

Lyle F. Guiley, president of Granite City Steel Co., is expected to be elected to a second term on the board of directors at the meeting. He is unable to attend.

Among those at the meeting from this area will be the manager and executive secretary of the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Holscher; the vice-president of industrial relations for Laclede Steel Co. and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Schweighauser; and Dr. and Mrs. George T. Wilkins Jr.

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California will be the speaker. He will talk on "The Creative Society in the '70's."

Many of those attending the meeting will remain in Chicago tomorrow's Illinois Industrial Council meeting. Holscher is a past president of that organization.

Church Yule Programs Should Be Submitted

Quadrant churches wishing their Christmas season programs to be published in the Dec. 17 issue are being encouraged to submit them to the Press-Record this week.

The newspaper office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow and 8:30 a.m. to noon on Saturday. During other hours the church programs may be placed in news slots by any of the office doors at the Press-Record, 1815 Delmar Ave.

EOC Pick's Demand Ouster of Member

Representatives of the Eagle Park Improvement Association continued to picket today at the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission's Neighborhood Center, 145 Madison Ave., Madison, in an effort to oust an Eagle Park man from the county anti-poverty commission.

Eddie Salmond, president of the Eagle Park organization, said today, "We are determined to see Herman Smith removed from the commission and will demonstrate and picket at the EOC center in Madison each morning until this is accomplished."

Smith, 201 Terry St., Eagle Park, a two-year member of the county commission which directs federally-funded anti-poverty programs, could not be reached for comment. He is one of several members appointed to represent the poor on the board.

Several factors enter into the dispute, Salmond said, including testimony presented by Smith last week at a hearing before the Illinois Commission on Human Relations, and the alleged hiring of residents from outside Madison County at the local Neighborhood Center.

State Road Projects In 1971 to Top 1970

The Illinois road building program for 1971 will top 1970 bids of a half billion dollars by $60 million, Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie told contractors this week at Springfield.

He said he would ask the General Assembly to try again for about a $2 billion bond issue for 2,000 miles of supplementary freeways if the new constitution is adopted. A previous effort was killed by the State Supreme Court.

Need 2 Laws to Aid Railroads --Steinhauer

A. P. Steinhauer, American Steel Foundries works manager here, today urged federal legislation to aid stricken railroads, asserting that, otherwise, rail companies will be unable to attract enough investment capital to keep their equipment and facilities modern.

He said this could cause a continuing drop in orders for the cast steel side frames and bolsters produced for freight cars at the Granite City plant.

"We had an average of 1100 employees in the October 1960-September 1970 year but this cannot be maintained if the railroads are not helped," he told the Press-Record.

Outlook Is Serious

"The railroads' financial trouble could seriously hurt business and employment at our plant," Steinhauer said.

He urged employees, residents, merchants and businessmen to write Illinois Senators Charles Percy and Adlai Stevenson III or Missouri Senators Stuart Symington and Thomas F. Eagleton to ask for passage of S. 463 and S. 464, introduced by Sen. Mangum of Washington.

The first bill would establish a pool of general service freight cars to be made available when car shortages occur.

The second legislative proposal would provide government insurance to back private loans granted to the railroads for equipment and facilities. The government would guarantee payment of such a loan if a railroad were to default; this would make it easier for the railroads to raise money for modernization.

1.8% Rate of Return

"Few people realize how serious the railroads' financial troubles have become," Steinhauer said. He reported that the average rate of return on investment for the railroad industry is 1.8%.

Of the 71 Class I U. S. railroads, 40 have no working capital. Of these 71 railroads, 30 are operating "in the red." Interest costs and fixed charges now consume 75% of the income of the industry, and this gets worse every month, he added.

The ASF works manager said he does not believe nationalization of the railroads is the answer. "This breeds inefficiency and would cost the taxpayers staggering amounts of money," he predicted.

"The answer is legislation like these two Senate bills, and this is merely a start," he said.

"America's railroads are desperately needed," Steinhauer said. He pointed out that the railroads are the nation's biggest hauler of freight, carrying 41% of the intercity traffic.

In the next 10 years, he said, railroads expect to be handling one-third more traffic than today. "The railroads are an important national asset," he stressed, "and unless they are healthy, our country cannot be healthy."

Lawn & Garden By WAYNE B. SIEPERT Ornamental Horticulturist, St. Clair and Madison Counties

Winter Care of Cacti

Cacti are dormant in the winter but still require occasional watering to survive.

Desert cacti and succulents are easily maintained during the winter when watered from the top every 3-4 weeks. When watering, use warm water. It is harmful to pour water on the plant. Excess water collected in the tray under the pot should always be discarded.

Keep your cactus in a bright location and normal room temperature. When your cactus shows signs of growth water more often.

Winter Care of Evergreens

Winter-burn on holly and evergreen magnolias can be prevented by spraying the leaves with a protecant and mulching the soil.

Winter-burn is excessive drying of the leaves during cold weather and high winds. Protestants like Will-Prof or Foli-Gard reduce the moisture loss by producing a plastic coating over the leaves which seal the surfaces and prevents evaporation.

Will-Prof or Foli-Gard are liquids you mix with water and spray on the foliage. Thorough coverage of both sides of the leaves is necessary. Two applications are necessary to provide seasonal protection. The first in early December and again in late January. These products must be applied when temperatures are above freezing.

Mulching the soil prevents root activity to provide a steady sap flow to the tops. Two or three inches of wood chips, sawdust or compost beneath the spread of the branches is adequate. A thick layer of leaves or straw is equally effective.

Madison County Heart Leadership Meet Held

The Madison County Heart Association Leadership Conference was held during the week-end at the Rose Bowl Restaurant. Registration and coffee began at 9:30 with the conference and luncheon following.

The welcome was extended by the president Mrs. Mary Batson who introduced State Rep. Horace Calvo, county chairman in charge of volunteers and recruitment, who spoke on ways of recruiting and how the areas should be broken down.

Heart Sunday chairman Babbette Wells, field director from Edwardsville, who suggested one worker for each block of the city, and one District captain for each six city blocks. Miss Wells said heart disease is still the number one killer and stressed that the heart fund is not involved with the United Fund. She said 32% of the total donations come from Heart Fund Sunday.

Mrs. Shirley Wiemers, staff assistant from Rosewood Heights, spoke on a film foundation for the heart association. She also spoke on the forms and how they will be used. Luncheon was served after which the keynote speaker, L. R. Burnett, fund raising director from Springfield, Ill. was introduced.

He spoke on the sources of funds and the objective? The real goal is not just to raise money but to afford everyone the opportunity to control heart disease, the speaker said.

Mr. Burnett said every other person will be affected by heart disease, and noted that last year 56.7% of the deaths in Madison County were due to heart disease. There were 2,317 deaths in Madison County in 1969. Of this there were 1,257 due to heart disease and 382 died from cancer.

He said it can be done, "if we are willing to pay the cost in terms of time, talent and funds. We in the heart association are to change the way of life of people. We need Motivation, with Education and information."

Mr. Burnett spoke on a new machine that is 89% correct in detecting heart disease in people by just placing the hands on the machine. It registers either red or green to detect heart disease this is in the future for plant workers and others so that they can be treated immediately, he said.

Mrs. Lily Chaboude, Special Events Chairman was introduced. She spoke on the many ways she has in mind for fund raising road blocks, rummage sales, marathons, walkathons, motorcades, and many others. She will serve as county chairman for special events. Mrs. Sally Jo Baxter of Collinsville spoke on public relations for the county. She said she will mail kits to surrounding editors asking them to run editorials in their papers.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Batson announced special appointments, as follows: Mrs. Helen Christich, Area Consultant for the Tri-Cities Area; Sunshine Scruggs, board of directors; and Mr. Charlie Batson, also to the board of directors.

Others present were Randall Robertson, city chairman for Granite City whose co-chairman is Mrs. Chaboude; Vice-President Mrs. Sylvia Wright; Bill Matcica, city chairman for Edwardsville; Verna Longel, board of directors; Pauline Weir, secretary and chairman for the Educational Director; Becky Slate, co-chairman serving with Mrs. Weir; and Mrs. Bonnie Lazebny, public relations chairman for the city of Granite City who also will assist with the county publicity. The purpose of the conference was to familiarize the workers with the heart fund obligations before the drive is begun.

A. O. Smith Loss in 4th Quarter Seen

A. O. Smith Corp. will suffer a loss in the fourth quarter, dropping earnings for all of 1970 substantially below 1969 record levels, L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, said today in Milwaukee.

Smith said the fourth quarter loss was the direct result of the United Auto Workers strike against General Motors. A. O. Smith manufactures automobile and truck frames for GM, and GM is the company's largest customer.

The loss in the fourth quarter will amount to approximately 67 cents per share, compared to a profit of $1.37 per share in the fourth quarter of 1969.

For the year as a whole, Smith estimated earnings will be $2.60 per share or better. In 1969, A. O. Smith earned a record $3.84 per share.

Smith said that with the conclusion of the GM strike, A. O. Smith will return to profitable operations, with the level determined largely by the course of the economy.

He went on to say that, "We are working in some exciting growth markets, such as electric motors for air conditioning, elevators, farm automation and water heating, so I am confident of a bright future for A. O. Smith."

Model Start-Up Costs

While the loss of business due to the GM strike will be the major cause of lower earnings in 1970, other factors reducing profits include losses suffered by the A. O. Smith Corp. of Texas, a 50%-owned affiliate; a swing in interest income versus interest expense between 1970 and 1969; and new model start-up costs in the automotive division, Smith said.

He added that the losses in the Texas operation are caused by high start-up costs in the installation of a new welding process for line pipe, a soft line pipe market resulting in lower sales and the discontinuance of the manufacture of bomb casings in January.

Sales for the year should top $400 million for the first time in the company's history, Smith said. In 1969, A. O. Smith had sales of $354.5 million.

For the fourth quarter, sales should exceed $75 million, compared to $94.3 million in the fourth quarter of 1969.

While sales for the fourth quarter are down because of the GM strike, sales for the year are up over 1969 as a result of good performances by several operating divisions. The sales of companies acquired last year whose sales were not included in 1969 statements.

Constitution Would Bring Efficiency, Percy Believes

U. S. Sen. Charles H. Percy (R., Ill.) this week called the proposed Illinois constitution a "contemporary flexible document" which will enable the state of Illinois to carry out its duties more openly and efficiently and urged its adoption on Dec. 15.

"So many states have recently attempted to rewrite their constitutions," Percy said. "Most of them have been unsuccessful. But the problem of revitalizing state government to meet growing responsibilities is now a challenge to all states."

"For this reason, I wanted to call the outstanding job of the Illinois Constitutional Convention to my Senate colleagues' attention."

"Best of 30 States"

Speaking on the floor of the Senate, the senator said, "The most outstanding part of the new constitution is its Bill of Rights—billed by some as the best in any constitution of the 30 states."

"A right until now guaranteed only by the Fourteenth Amendment of the U. S. Constitution, the right of equal protection of the laws, was added to the constitution's Due Process clause. Only a few states have such a provision," he said.

"In the executive, legislative and judicial areas, the proposed state charter sheds the antiquated and adopts the innovative. In so doing it offers hope for more honest, responsive and streamlined government."

Reduction of Backlogs

"In the judicial branch, an attempt is made to reduce the heavy backlogs in civil cases, so that the courts can devote more time to the more serious cases," Percy said.

"In the selection of judges, two alternative methods will be offered to the voters. They will be able to choose between abandoning the present system of electing judges—which tends to reward personal popularity rather than judicial ability—in favor of having judges appointed by the governor, after having been nominated by a bipartisan committee of lawyers and laymen."

"The proposed State Constitution of 1970 is a well-thought-out, progressive document which will enable our state to move forward in an enlightened manner."

"At the same time, it retains the best of the old Illinois Constitution by upholding our best traditions and reaffirming our basic belief in the rights of the individual."

Sen. Percy concluded, "It has my full support and I hope the citizens of Illinois will endorse it on Dec. 15."

Coordinator of Illinois Park Programs Appointed

Paul Maruska, Springfield, has been appointed coordinator of summer programming, according to Dean Campbell, assistant superintendent of the division of parks and memorials for the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Maruska was graduated from Southern Illinois University with a B.A. degree in zoology and an M.S. degree in zoology with research in fisheries. He worked for the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife at Crab Orchard National Refuge in southern Illinois as a recreational aid and fisheries biologist. Previously he worked in environmental research at Borg-Warner Corp. While at Carbondale, he taught environmental biology.

Maruska has moved to Springfield with his wife, Cheryl, who was formerly employed as an elementary music education teacher.

His primary duties include coordinating and developing the summer recreation program, scheduling activities, hiring of summer personnel, scheduling of Saturday evening movies at the parks, purchase of supplies for summer sites, and placement of buildings for the summer program.

The 1971 summer recreation program will be designed to provide daily recreational and educational activities for campers' children from the ages of 7 to 14, Campbell said. He explained that activities in the summer recreation program will emphasize the relation of the child to his environment through specific activities.

In 1970 the program was undertaken on an experimental basis in six parks. In 1970 it will be expanded to 12 parks: Mississauga, Palisades, Rock Cut, Chain O' Lakes, Illinois Beach, Starved Rock, Kankakee, Argyle Lake, Lincoln's New Salem, Kickapoo, Persimmon, Ramsey Lake and Lincoln Trail.

The season will open June 15 and close Sept. 5, and activities will be presented from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday through Sundays at summer recreation program centers located near the park campgrounds.

Centers will be staffed by program leaders selected from Illinois colleges who have either college degrees in biological sciences, physical sciences, outdoor recreation or recreation-interpretation or students who are working toward bachelors or masters degrees.

Activities including Saturday evening movies, square dancing, folk dancing, theater groups and craft presentations will be provided for family camping groups, Campbell said.

Parking Lot Accident

Backing out of a parking space, an auto driven by W. J. Grizzard, 3235 Edgewood Ave., struck the left side of the auto of Nick Choucasas, East St. Louis, at 2:45 p.m. Monday on the lot at the Namecki Village shopping center.

A former Granite Cityan was honored during dedication ceremonies of the Akron Child Guidance Center in Akron, O., which were witnessed by his mother and other members of the family.

Dr. Louis D. Kacaleff of Cleveland, Ohio, a former local resident, has served for 15 years as chief psychiatrist and medical director of the Akron Child Guidance Center for emotionally disturbed children.

Since he became medical director, the center has evolved from a single story dwelling into a modern three-floor building equipped with the latest conveniences and furnishings to provide the best assistance for children with problems. Youngsters referred to the center range from preschool-age to 18 years.

At the dedication, Kimball A. Firestone, president of the Center's board of directors, praised Dr. Kacaleff for his devotion to his work and the respect he has gained from the entire community.

Presented Scroll
A parchment scroll, framed in gold, was signed by the center staff and presented to Dr. Kacaleff for his office. Witnessing the dedication were Dr. Kacaleff's mother, Mrs. D. L. Kacaleff, 1301 Iowa St., and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Christ D. Kacaleff and daughter, Lisa, O.

Dr. Kacaleff attended local grade schools and was graduated from Granite City High School and Westminster College at Fulton, Mo. He earned his medical degree from Washington University School of Medicine and received his psychiatric training at Western Reserve University of Cleveland, Ohio.

After serving two years with the U. S. Air Force in Germany and at Scott Air Base, Belleville, as chief psychiatrist, he returned to the center where he was employed prior to entering the service.

In Demand as Speaker
Dr. Kacaleff is in great demand as a speaker at various functions and makes frequent appearances on television and radio in panel discussion programs.

He is a member of the board of trustees of the American Association of Psychiatric Services for Children; the Akron Art Institute; Cleveland Museum of Art; the United Community Council of Akron.

Dr. Kacaleff is currently serving as chairman of a national committee with the objective to implement a report to the U. S. Congress concerning Childhood Mental Health. Mrs. Kacaleff returned home following the Thanksgiving holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kacaleff and daughter returned from Akron at an earlier date.

Support for development of a major airport in the Illinois section of the metropolitan area has been strengthened with the backing of the Federal Aviation Administration.

Continued efforts by Missouri interests to have the facility located in Missouri were rebuffed as John Shaffer, FAA director, turned down a Missouri request for $125,000 in federal matching funds for a study of Missouri sites.

The request had been made by Missouri's Division of Commerce and Industrial Development which appeared before the Missouri House and Senate Appropriations committee seeking a $125,000 state allocation for the study.

St. Louis Mayor Alfonso J. Cervantes, who expressly favors a nearby Illinois location, commented that the FAA decision "virtually kills the possibility of a Missouri site."

But two other Missouri leaders, Gov. Warren Hearnes and Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos of St. Louis County, disagree with the decision.

Roos Doesn't Agree

Roos said that "if this is the decision of the FAA, we intend tonight to appeal to U. S. Secretary of Transportation Volpe."

"Hearnes and I are determined not to sit idly by and accept decisions unless the reasons for it have been explained publicly."

Shaffer urged Missouri officials to think as broadly as possible and cooperate with the Illinois project.

He said the airport location has been studied almost to the "point of exhaustion" by FAA and other professional aviation consultants, and added that the project as drawn by Illinois and the City of St. Louis is going ahead at full speed.

Indicating that pressure could be used to keep the location in Illinois, Shaffer pointed to considerable progress, including funding of the St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority by the Illinois General Assembly, and that studies are underway to select the specific site.

Shaffer said that when the studies are complete, "we expect that application will be made to the FAA for formal airspace approval."

Certain Bill Will Pass

Mayor Cervantes expects a bill he filed with the St. Louis Board of Aldermen to join Illinois in establishing the airport authority to pass despite opposition from St. Louis union sources.

"If unions pursue their present course, it will knock their men out of a tremendous amount of jobs—almost $100 million worth of work."

Cervantes admitted that many in Missouri prefer that the airport be built in Missouri, "but it is ridiculous to turn down the recommendations of experts who say it should be built on the East Side."

"If it is best for the people and economy, what difference does it make if the river separates us from the site."

SIU Information Book Distributed in State

A 197-page book describing study programs, policies and factual information about Southern Illinois University at Carbondale has been distributed to high school and junior college counselors throughout the state.

"Counselor's handbook," prepared by the SIU Office of Admissions, includes recommended two-year junior college programs for students planning to transfer into any degree course at SIU.

The book also provides detailed explanations of general studies requirements for transfers, scholastic standards, special programs, admissions requirements and such hard information as fees, housing, registration steps, financial aid and the student disciplinary code.

Jerry Pfaff, admissions director, said the paperback booklet replaces a looseleaf volume used previously to college advisement officials in Illinois schools. The press run was 10,000 copies.

Six Students Elected To Senate at SIU-SW

Winners of six of the seven seats on the Student Senate of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, which are filled in fall quarter elections have been determined after a second round of voting. The seventh seat winner will be declared after a vote recount.

The first election was ruled invalid by the Election Board because of improper election procedures.

On the second ballot, members elected were Mohammad A. Kashkoul, Wood River; Carole Cooper, Tower Lake; Catherine Young, 54 Garesche Homes, Madison; Paula Johnson, South Bend, Ind.; and Fethieh Askari, Tehran, Iran.

A recount of ballots for Gill Jethroe of East St. Louis and Dave Duff of Chicago, will determine the winner of the seventh seat.

Seven other student senators will be elected in the spring quarter.

Involved in Accident

Autos driven by Joyce E. Gregory, 1918 Fifth St., Madison, and Mary L. Richeson, 2364 North St., were involved in a traffic accident at 5:25 p.m. Monday at St. Clair Avenue and Nameoki Road.

Growing Fragmentation of New SIU Health Education Facilities Assailed by Ottwein

"I believe a decidedly wrong direction is being taken in the overall planning of health education facilities in Southern and Southwestern Illinois by SIU," express strong concern and request an urgent reevaluation of the entire system," retiring State Sen. Merrill Ottwein has asserted.

"This concern is based on the simple fact that undeniably needed health education facilities exist and planned for SIU are being fragmented to four different campuses in three different areas without any coordination and without any attention to some important components.

"At the moment, nursing exists at SIU-SW and dental is emerging at Alton. Pre-clinical medicine is to be accomplished at Carbondale while clinical medicine is planned for Springfield.

"The clinical field is to be all of southern Illinois, but especially Madison and St. Clair counties.

"I've been concerned about it before. My para-medical background has reacted strongly from the beginning against the fragmentation of these disciplines into different regions.

guish in the Senate Education Committee.

"One had to do with the separation of the two SIU campuses, to which this issue is tied, and the other would have required the Board of Higher Education to re-evaluate health education plans considering the apprehensions mentioned here.

"They did not get committee hearing because they were judged inappropriate for the 1970 session, which was supposed to consider only revenue and appropriations.

"I intend to pursue the matter closely in the months ahead, anticipating re-election. Now that that is denied, I feel obliged to speak out now... to ask for the study that would have been required by the resolution, and to alert all in positions of leadership of these concerns.

"Some urgency is apparently required in that the plans for the health education facilities on the various campuses are advancing at a faster rate than anticipated.

"If something isn't done too soon to change the course, it may, indeed, be too late. We'll then endure, for at least another generation, educational facilities that are inappropriate for the last, let alone the future.

"Ottwein continued, "There are several 'modern' goals commonly embraced for health services of the future:

"1. We first of all are receiving report after report testifying to inadequate health care delivery systems everywhere, generally. Traditional systems aren't doing the job we think we need.

"2. The term 'comprehensive health care' is being increasingly used as a mode of the future, where disciplines are coordinated or combined or 'teamed' into effective delivery systems.

"3. Preventive medicine... 'public health'... is portrayed as the real key to many health problems. Surely our culture has advanced to the point of appreciating the necessity and the economy of preventive care.

"4. Socio-psychological implications to physical health—as well as to mental health, obviously—more and more are being considered as integral parts of the whole health picture rather than as a separate, fragmented discipline.

"These are just a few of the more important modern considerations. The current plans that SIU has in health education fields, while purporting to speak to obvious needs, actually violate most of these tenets, or don't speak to their fulfillment.

"1. Disciplines are fragmented even into separate campuses. How can we get comprehensive delivery systems when the different parts of the system are uncoordinated at their training levels? A team approach before or after graduation is virtually impossible.

"2. Comprehensive health care and modern delivery systems are made virtually impossible. We are beginning to speak to the problems of shortages of disciplined people, but not to comprehensive or preventive care.

"3. Public health is not spoken of as any part of the whole, and yet it may be the foundation.

"4. The clinical training sites are so far removed from the clinical fields in the case of the proposed medical school as to be ridiculous.

"I can buy the 'medical school without walls' concept if the clinical field is handy, but the logistics of serving a field in Southern and Southwestern Illinois from Springfield escapes me.

"I can't believe it will work.

Dentistry is in a much better position to serve its clients during clinical years.

"5. We would be 'locked into' this system, once it's set in motion, for at least another generation. So much public money is involved that once it's started, it will be difficult or impossible to recall.

"There is a strong connection between the dual-campus nature of SIU and the current problem.

"I strongly suspect that the Board of Trustees would have great difficulty in assigning the whole health education spectrum to one campus or the other.

"Regional pie-cutting would be a natural: 'You take this part... we'll take that,' until the whole problem is completely segmented and separated.

"I feel that Southwestern Illinois... where the people are... is the only logical location for all of these facilities. Any other location is very difficult to justify.

"Unless something is done now to rectify the actions taken and contemplated, we will embark upon decades of less-than-adequate, even less-than-currently-available health education facilities, in a time when we desperately need nothing less than the best."

Bobby Picker Earns Submariner Dolphins

Upon completion of a concentrated qualifying program in the U.S. Navy's submarine service, Electrician's Mate Bobby A. Picker of Granite City, recently received the "Dolphins" award, designating the serviceman as a qualified submariner.

The sailor received his 'Dolphins' while on deployment on board the USS Whale from Commander Thomas A. Mayberry Jr., commanding officer of the submarine.

A 1966 graduate of Granite City High School, Electrician's Mate Picker is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie W. Picker, 2148 Orville Ave. He was attached to the USS Whale from January 1970 until last month when reassigned to duty in Charleston, S.C.

Prior to volunteering for Naval service two and a half years ago, he was employed at Carter Carburetor Co., St. Louis.

Workshop for Study Of Crime Now Underway

The Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency, and Corrections at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern is conducting a workshop in Columbus, Ohio, for correctional personnel this week under the National Educational Program for Institutionalized Children.

The workshop, according to Robert Gilland, director of the SIU-SW center, is to assist staff and students to more effectively achieve both individual and institutional goals. The primary focus will be on bringing out the expertise of the institutional staff and students for the purpose of modifying or correcting their own problems, Gilland said.

Maeras To Seek
New County Jail Building

New Madison County Sheriff John Maeras has called for construction of a new county jail by the end of his four-year term.

Following his inauguration Monday at the Courthouse in Edwardsville he said he would urge the County Board of Supervisors to include a jail structure in its 1972 budget and will ask the new county building commission to give the project full consideration.

At various times the county board has debated the merits of renovating the current 100-year-old jail and building an addition, a plan which was favored by outgoing Sheriff George Musso.

Maeras also said he plans to change the system of retaining the chief deputy position and create the position of administrative assistant-liaison officer. He said he had contacted State Police Capt. Emil Toffant and Maj. Pete Vasek of the St. Louis County police and plans to discuss the job with FBI agents approaching retirement.

Schmidt Changing Posts
Frank Schmidt, who was chief deputy under Musso is moving with him to the treasurer's office to be in charge of the inheritance tax division. He took a year's leave of absence under terms of the sheriff's merit system.

Musso was inaugurated to a second term as county treasurer, while Miss Eulalia Hotz began her eighth term as county clerk. Three Circuit Court Judges who were retained—Judges Joseph J. Barr, Harold R. Clark and James O. Monrois—also were sworn in.

Maeras said he plans to form four divisions in the department—criminal investigation, civil process, keeper of the jail and patrol deputies. He particularly wants to strengthen the criminal investigation staff which now contains two members of the department.

Dr. Melvin Kazek To Head Scout Project

Dr. Melvin Kazek, chairman of the Earth Services Department at SIU-SW has accepted the chairmanship for Save Our American Resources (SOAR), it was announced today by G. Rollin Henn, president of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.

SOAR is a special scouting project for 1971 and will involve every unit and scout in a year-long series of projects and educational experiences in three areas:

The importance of all natural resources to themselves, their country and their way of life in a democracy, and will be one experience area. The second area of emphasis will be designed to teach the scouts an appreciation of their interdependence to a better environment in which they live.

The kickoff for project SOAR is scheduled during Boy Scout week, Feb. 7 to 13.

Table Tennis More Than A Sport To Area Student

One must have the desire to fulfill this desire in his own reach and maintain a level of sport, table tennis, according to consistency that is required to Table Tennis according to excel in any sport. Bob Cawly, Cawly is the fastest sport in the 1520 Fourth St., Madison, has United States and requires reflexes similar to those of great athletes. In order to keep in shape Cawly practices twenty hours each week on strokes, serves, strategy and the theory of the game. With this he runs to keep in good physical condition.

"In the finals match in Quincy I had to play all out for 45 minutes before I finally won the event," he said.

Cawly first became interested in table tennis when he saw George Gallas, a local policeman, play.

"I was really impressed by the way he could control the ball and at the same time hit it so hard. The speed of some of his 'kill shots' reach speeds of 120 miles an hour," he said.

Mr. Gallas and I became close friends and played almost every night, or whenever we could. Cawly soon became a member of the St. Louis Table Tennis Club. "At first I was beaten

Constitution Backed By Urban Study Group

The Illinois Commission on Urban Area Government has endorsed the main package of the proposed new state constitution.

The action was taken by the executive committee after a poll of the commission membership showed that an overwhelming majority favored endorsement. The constitutional vote is set for Dec. 15.

The urban area government commission, created by Gov. Otto Kerner and enlarged by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, is headed by Robert E. Merriam, Chicago, and Edward W. Wilson, River Forest. Its 61 members represent every section of the state.

The executive committee endorsed the Local Government Article in September. The new endorsement covers the entire constitution except for the four separate articles—on which the commission felt it should not take a position.

Merriam said, "The Local Government Article is a major improvement over the present condition of local government in Illinois."

The new constitution would benefit the public is great. Therefore, in conformance with the desire of the majority of its members, the commission endorses the main package of the proposed new constitution as a necessary condition to the adoption of the Local Government Article."

Drop in 1970 Census Here Will Cut Barton's Salary

This year's census findings are officially registered and announced by the U.S. Census Bureau.

Once the new census figures become official, however, the salary reduction would be required immediately, Schooley said.

While meeting at the town board, the aldermen approved bills totaling $4,035 payable out of the town fund, and bills totaling $11,882, payable from the general assistance fund.

Urge Depot Employees To Register for Jobs

Lieutenant Colonel John A. Hengel, commander of the Granite City Army Depot has emphasized that not enough employees of the depot are taking advantage of the placement programs in the civilian personnel office to find positions to replace those being phased out by the depot closing.

Hengel said the Illinois and Missouri State Employment Services have completed interviews with all employees to provide every assistance in placement. Hengel said, "In view of further anticipated cuts . . . and the resultant scarcity of job opportunities, the importance of registering in the placement programs cannot be overemphasized."

He said closing operations are continuing, shipments of Government Printing Office papers and Civil Defense stocks have been completed and other transfer operations are continuing.

There are still many closing operations which may be retained either temporarily or permanently. Hengel said, including the disposition of activities in support of the St. Louis area, the extent to which current facilities may be retained for the support of active and retired military personnel and the number of men needed for future support activities.

He said that as of last week, 512 career employees have left the depot since the inactivation announcement. Of those, 162 transferred to other government activities, 133 transferred to other Army activities, 94 retired, 36 resigned, 11 transferred and 18 left for other reasons.

The remainder are classified as pending losses.

"It is anticipated that job offers will be made in January 1971, by the receiving depots, to those employees who desire to transfer," Hengel said.

Schooley explained that since the city had not registered its 1967 census figure of 38,850, the population figure of 49,973 established by the 1960 census would continue in effect until the new census findings are officially registered and announced by the U.S. Census Bureau.

Soldier Says Trip Home Cost $800, But Worth it

A Granite City soldier who not only paid his own way home from Vietnam, but also the return trip back again, said he felt the $800 roundtrip fare was "well worth the price."

Private First Class William (Bill) Gibson, 21, was the first U.S. serviceman to arrive in the United States under a new program whereby military personnel with sufficient duty time in Vietnam may now return to the continental United States for a 14-day "R and R" leave.

Previously, Rest and Relaxation furloughs were restricted to travel to areas in Southeast Asia, such as Hong Kong, Bangkok, Thailand and Japan. Hawaii was the closest place a GI could get to home.

Through the new R and R "leave at home" program, a serviceman is entitled to free air transportation to San Francisco, Calif., but is required to pay the cost of the return flight, approximately $800, plus transportation charges once he arrives in this country.

Could Take Several Days

Pfc. Gibson explained that under the new system, a man must first obtain a leave home on an available seat on a States-bound aircraft. The pre-boarding waiting period could be a matter of only one day, or stretch into several days of waiting he added.

Possibility that the latter circumstances could happen

Until four weeks ago, Pfc. Gibson was a sniper serving with the 506th Tactical Operations Company, 101st Airborne Division. He has spent most of the past seven months in combat, and on occasions, was dropped with his unit into special areas of concentration.

Although he declined to discuss specifics of the incident while at home, it is believed Pfc. Gibson was wounded sometime in mid-July. He bears several scars caused by shrapnel, his parents said.

Driver for Colonel

For the past month, the local GI has been assigned as personal driver to a colonel in the 506th TOC. He is based in the vicinity of Camp Evans, near Phu Bai, in the Central Vietnamese Highlands.

A 1969 graduate of Granite City High School, Pfc. Gibson spent part of Monday visiting with his former teachers at the local school and viewing the damage caused by last week's disastrous fire.

Prior to entering the Army on Sept. 25, 1969, he was employed at McDonnell-Douglas Aircraft Corp. St. Louis. He is a grandson of Mrs. Nina Payne, 222 Granville St., Venice.

Pfc. Gibson left this week on his westbound flight to Vietnam, where he will remain until next April. His address is listed in today's "Voice Mail Call."

PREPARING FOR SHOW. Hollywood stuntman Dick Ryan, left, holds the reins of Admiral, his stunt horse, with Ed Wisniewski, manager of Gasen's Drug Store, astride, and Hugh Harrigan, manager of the Sears, Roebuck & Co. store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center, looking on. Ryan will present shows this afternoon, Friday and Saturday in the Nameoki Village shopping center parking lot.

Stunt Man To Present 3 Shows At Nameoki Village

Hollywood stunt man Dick Ryan and his horse Admiral will present three stunt shows this week in the parking lot of the Nameoki Village Shopping Center, the first today at 4 p.m. Other shows will be tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday afternoon at 2:30. In his presentation, Ryan explains and duplicates how various stunts seen in movies and on television are performed, and demonstrates several stunts. He said that anyone with intelligence and physical ability can do stunts, but one tends to doubt the first as he tells about the scars he has obtained in his line of work. He has broken his back twice, has fractured a leg, smashed one knee so that it required several operations, has sustained numerous fractured ribs and collarbones, has suffered a torn rib cage and has lost count of his concussions.

Performs for Actor
Anyone who is a western movie fan or watches such television shows as "Gunsmoke" or "The Virginian" is sure to have seen Ryan perform, although they probably thought they were watching the star of the show. Whenever the script calls for a difficult or dangerous move from the star, Ryan is called in to do the stunt.

Ryan is the fellow who jumps his horse over the flaming wagon or falls off a galloping horse after having been shot by Indians. Whatever the script writer comes up with in his wildest nightmares, Ryan is asked to do.

For one hour prior to each show, children will be allowed to take short rides on Admiral, Ryan's horse.

The stunt man, who prefers to be called a horseman, is a native of Canada, who now lives in Van Nuys, Calif. He has worked in his field for more than 30 years, but he has been near horses all of his life. He currently owns about 20 horses.

Dangerous Tricks
Jumping a horse over objects is one of the stunts in the most demand, and is also one of the most dangerous tricks for both the rider and the horse. Ryan now wears a helmet when jumping.

The success in jumping belongs mostly to the horse, according to Ryan. "It's not so much a skill in horsemanship, or daring with the rider, it's more the rider knowing the horse, understanding how the horse will react, having a close communication, and affection with his horse."

Ryan will demonstrate the importance of closeness with his horse in stunt riding tonight, tomorrow and Saturday. The shows are sponsored by the Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Lower Weight Allowed

Lowering of test weight requirements for 1970-crop corn under loan in warehouses will be "a tremendous help" to farmers, according to Agriculture Director Gordon L. Ropp. Requirements were lowered three pounds—from 49 to 46 pounds per bushel—by the USDA following Ropp's recommendations to the national office after a study of a cross-section sampling of corn in country elevators.

Council Ends Six-Month Controversy Over Scroggins' Salary; Full Pay is Restored

A six-month controversy over the salary of City Attorney Leon Scroggins in which the city council Finance Committee sought to trim Scroggins' salary by half was resolved without debate Monday night in action restoring the pay to the original $12,500 per year.
Monday night's council action was in sharp contrast to that of previous meetings in which council members spent hours of argument over the question of paying Scroggins $6,000 per year, which was slightly less than half of his salary during the 1969-70 fiscal year ending last April 30.
Council members approved a motion by Alderman Walter Neum, who said he was prepared for the next meeting providing for amendment of the appropriation to meet the $12,500 salary figure. The council meets again Monday night.
In presenting the motion, Neum pointed out that the city is confronted with considerable legal work and that "we cannot possibly get along without a city attorney." There was no discussion on the matter.
Salary Budget Cut
The battle over the city attorney's salary and that of the assistant city attorney, resulting in resignations from both attorneys, developed last June when the 1970-71 city budget and appropriation prepared by the council's Finance Committee fixed the budget for the city attorney at $6,000 and set the salary of the assistant city attorney at $3,000.
Despite protests by Mayor Donald Partney and assurances from Scroggins that he would resign if the budget was adopted with those figures, council members approved the appropriation with the reduced salaries.
Scroggins submitted his resignation following adoption of the appropriation bill, as did Harry Hartman, assistant city attorney. Hartman had received $6,000 salary during the 1969-70 fiscal year.
Although a majority of council members voted to accept the resignations, Mayor Partney contended that Scroggins was still city attorney because that office is filled by appointment of the mayor. The mayor said he had not accepted Scroggins' resignation and therefore Scroggins still was city attorney.

Steel Imports Rise Again; Exports Drop

Steel imports into the U. S. rose in October to their highest monthly total since July, 1969—while domestic mill exports slipped to their lowest point since June of 1969.
American Iron and Steel Institute reported that, according to preliminary government figures, 1,334,000 net tons of foreign steel entered the country in October—an increase of 37,000 tons over September and 223,000 tons over August. This was the sixth straight month in which imports topped one million tons. October's import tonnage was the largest for any month since the 1,412,000 tons recorded in July, 1969.
Through the first 10 months of this year, steel imports totaled 10,302,000 tons—with an average of nearly $150 per ton. This is almost $27 per ton more than the average value of imports during the comparable period of last year.
Bake Sale Saturday
The Junior Leadership of the Granite City High School will hold a bake sale Saturday, Dec. 12, from 9 A.M. until 2:15 P.M. at Kozay's Market, 2600 Nameoki Road. Miss Dawn Rowland, chairman, has announced that proceeds from the sale will go toward the group's service projects.
The council took no action to replace him and continued to refer legal work to Scroggins in each council session.
During the past two months Granite City has been beset by a series of damage suits and other legal work.
Non told council members Monday night that the balance of $6,000 needed to meet Scroggins' $12,500 salary for the current fiscal year could be made up with the $3,000 that had been appropriated for the assistant city attorney, which has not been used, and from contingency funds.
Mayor's Authority Challenged
The question of the mayor's authority to appoint certain city officials is one of the legal problems Scroggins has had to handle.
In this connection he notified the council Monday night that a pre-trial conference has been scheduled in circuit court at Edwardsville Dec. 21 at 1:30 p.m. on the suit brought by council members against Mayor Partney for a declaratory judgment on the question.

The circuit court proceedings were filed as one of the provisions in setting a suit brought against the city for salary payments by two women police dispatchers appointed by the mayor. Their salary payment was held up for a period of several months by city council members who contended Mayor Partney had no authority to make the appointments.

State Projects Sale Of 4.9 Million Plates

Secretary of State John W. Lewis has announced that 818,456 reassignment and request applications were validated at the end of November with fees totaling $21,831,289 deposited in the state treasury.
Projected sale of 1971 plates for all first class vehicles sold on the calendar year is 4,900,000. The Secretary of State's office is 24,351 applications ahead of the 794,105 validated for the same period a year ago. Fees collected and deposited in the state treasury are $550,564 ahead of last year's comparable figure of $20,860,705.

Once-in-Lifetime Chance for Court Modernization—III. Bar President

H. Ogden Brainard, president of the Illinois State Bar Association, told the Press-Record this week that voters of Illinois will have a "once-in-a-lifetime opportunity on Dec. 15 State Bar Association president to help modernize our court system and advance the cause of justice by voting for separate proposition 2-B of the proposed constitution."

Proposition 2-B provides for the appointment of judges as opposed to the present method of electing judges initially on political party ballots.

"Illinois took a great step forward in 1962 when the voters approved a new and simplified court system. Now the voters must decide whether Illinois will take another big step forward or whether a system of electing judges who are often beholden to politicians for their offices will continue to exist," Brainard said.

"No Illinois citizen will forget the crisis that developed in the summer of 1969 when the Illinois Supreme Court judges resigned under fire. This was a situation which stemmed directly from the partisan political system of electing judges."

"A political-litigated scandal occurred when a Cook County Judge was dismissed from office following charges of irregularities in the concession contracts at the Illinois State Fair."

"It is my personal conviction that the forces which tried—but failed—to keep the horse and buggy justice of peace system in Illinois are the same forces which are now trying to retain the elective system for judges."

Recalls 'Speed Traps'
"No one who has lived in Illinois long will forget the 'speed traps' and other abuses of the law that existed with the justice of peace system."

"It is interesting to note that the only other major country in the world with elected judges is the Soviet Union, where the elective process is a rubber stamp for the candidates slanted by party officials."

"Since the Merit Plan for the appointment of judges was first suggested in 1913 by a Chicago man, Prof. Albert M. Kales of Northwestern University School of Law, more than 20 states, including California, New York, Iowa and Missouri, have adopted the Merit Plan in whole or in part."

"Indicating the high esteem which voters hold for honest justice, voters of St. Louis County voted overwhelmingly in August to extend the plan to extend the plan to cover all of the judicial candidates. The plan had been in effect in the City of St. Louis for several years," the State Bar Association president noted.

Lack of Knowledge
"One of the principal faults of the judicial elective system is that most Illinois voters don't have the opportunity to know the judicial candidates."

The election of judges makes a force of a part of our democratic process. Candidates for executive and legislative offices campaign on the basis of issues. They have a party platform.

Voters can choose intelligently between party candidates for these offices. It is another matter when it comes to choosing between two or more candidates for judicial office, however. The rank and file of the voters know very little of the qualifications that combine to produce a good judge.

Judicial candidates seldom campaign. A majority of the people do not have an opportunity to learn the background of judicial candidates, to see or hear them in action. In other words, the very nature of the office prevents an attempt at informed choices."

Brainard adds, "The Merit Plan would make it possible to change this situation. A blue ribbon commission of laymen and lawyers in each circuit or district would select the names of three persons as nominees for a judgeship."

"The nominees in all probability would be prominent laymen or judges known to the public. The governor then would appoint one of the nominees to the position."

Laymen in Majority
"In Cook county, the judicial nominating commission would be composed of 11 laymen and 10 lawyers and in the other districts and circuits there would be seven laymen and six lawyers."

The Speaker of the House and the Minority Leader of the House each would be given authority to appoint one non-lawyer member of the nominating commissions and the governor would appoint the last member.

"Not more than a simple majority of the governor's appointees to each District Commission and the Cook County Circuit Commissions, and not more than two of their appointees to any one of the other Circuit Commissions, could be members of the same political party. Lawyer members of each commission are to be elected by secret ballot by all lawyers in a given circuit or district."

"It has been said by some opponents of the Merit Plan that party politics would be exchanged for lawyer politics if the Merit Plan is adopted. The fact that laymen compose the majority of the members of the nominating commissions refutes this argument. Lawyers would always be in a minority," he related.

Reduce Link to Politics
"In its argument for merit selection of judges, the majority report of the Committee on Judiciary of the Constitutional Convention stated that the nomination by non-partisan commissions of laymen and lawyers, and appointment

by the governor limited to such nominations, will substantially reduce or eliminate the undesirable political influences which plague the elective process.

In Brainard's view, "It is high time to take the selection of judges away from politicians and make our court system truly non-partisan."

"Political considerations should be forgotten when it comes to the matter of justice. Judges should be selected solely upon their ability."

November Births, Deaths Below October

The number of births in the Quad-Cities during November was the lowest since June 1969 with only 92 births recorded, compared to 114 in October. Only 81 births were recorded in June last year, while 103 were born in the area last November, according to a vital statistics report.

Deaths also showed a decline last month with 31 recorded in November compared to 33 in October. In November 1969, 51 deaths were recorded, the highest number in one month since August 1967 when the figure also stood at 51.

Davis Sees Tax Unfairness In Proposed Constitution

"The Illinois State AFL-CIO, Chicago AFL-CIO, United Steelworkers of America, Teamsters and most of the remainder of the Labor Movement have announced opposition to the 1970 proposed Constitution," Buddy W. Davis told the Press-Record today. He is president of the 24th District, Committee on Political Education, AFL-CIO.

"I think their opposition is with good reason and would like to outline the reasons for the labor movement's opposition," Davis said.

"The proponents of the passage of the new constitution would have you believe that this new document was passed overwhelmingly. The truth is that all the controversial parts of the constitution were approved by very small majorities. The name of the game was 'compromise.'

"The proponents also say, 'To vote the constitution down would waste millions of dollars spent on the Constitutional Convention.'

"Voters Not Obligated

"This argument of course does not obligate us to spend the next 20 years—or in accordance with past history, the next 100 years—with a document weighted against the people and favoring special interest groups," Davis commented.

"Another argument used by the proponents is, 'There is more good than bad in the new constitution. This raises two obvious questions: 'How bad is bad?' and 'Whose scale is being used to do the weighing?'

"The delegates originally voted to submit the constitution to the voters by separate articles, but later reversed this procedure and voted to submit the entire constitution with four separate issues.

"As a result of this action, the most important article, and perhaps the most controversial—Article IX, Revenue—is included with the main body of the constitution.

"Protection for Wealthy

"This article is one of the main objections of the labor movement. It is in its entirety a protection for industry, big business and the wealthy, while at the same time, hits the wage earner right where it hurts—in the pocketbook.

"Article IX prohibits a graduated income tax that would place the tax burden on those with the ability to pay, but permits the more regressive flat income tax. Further, the constitution sets a limit for corporations. The rate shall not exceed the rate imposed on individuals by more than a ratio of 8 to 5.

"There is no such limitation on the individual. The ratio could be equal or the individual paying more than corporations. Is it a wonder that the (Illinois) Chamber of Commerce and Manufacturers' Association favor the new constitution? They did their lobbying well.

"This is reason enough to oppose the constitution," Davis concluded.

Recordings of State Constitution Offered

Production of records of the text of the proposed 1970 Illinois Constitution, with explanations for use by blind or other physically handicapped persons has been completed and the records delivered to the distributing agency, Secretary of State John W. Lewis has announced.

Hild Regional Branch of the Chicago Public Library, the distributing agency, is forwarding the records to regular borrowers of "talking books" and to other agencies serving the blind.

The project, originated by Raymond M. Dickinson, coordinator of visually handicapped services for the State Department of Children and Family Services, is designed to enable the blind and others whose physical handicaps may prevent them from reading the printed text to acquaint themselves with the provisions of the proposed new constitution in preparation for voting on its adoption on Dec. 15.

About 6,000 sets of the recordings are available.

The library will send the constitution recordings to regular borrowers of talking books. Handicapped persons who are not regular borrowers may secure the free discs by contacting their local library.

The records will also be available through many agencies providing rehabilitation services for the handicapped.

18 Changes in Draft Law Being Implemented

Eighteen major recommendations of the Selective Service System's youth advisory committees have or are being implemented due to what Draft Director Curtis Tarr calls "constructive, youthful participation in the change mechanism of the American Democratic process." Tarr's comment is in an introductory letter to a 22-page booklet, "Dialogue & Action: Participation-Change!"

Tarr noted "that of the 36 recommendations submitted, 18 have on one being implemented, thanks to your suggestions and the year-long work of our staff."

He added that "six are being studied further. Ten were beyond the jurisdictional control of the Selective Service System and were referred to the Executive Branch or the Congress for consideration. Only two have been disapproved."

Of the 18 recommendations adopted, a sampling includes: increasing the quality and quantity of draft information for registrants, schools and counselors; making local boards more representative of today's young registrants; broadening the conscientious objector work program; computerizing and updating operations and data collection; improving rules to minimize draft evasions; and providing closer supervision of local board action.

Tarr urged the young advocates of change "to keep in mind always that dialogue and criticism generate pressure, but participation prompts productive action and meaningful change."

"We are striving to develop means to incorporate participation by all elements of our society, particularly youth, who are concerned about the draft."

Punch, Judy Puppet Show Set for Sunday

A seasonal twist will be added to the traditional Punch and Judy puppet show to be presented at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Communications Building theater.

Santa Claus and Scrooge will appear with the well-known Proctor puppets which Mime Proctor Zanger will introduce in her performance, "Merry Christmas, Mr. Punch," sponsored by the SIU-SW Friends of the Library. Mrs. Zanger will also demonstrate hand puppets and talk about the traditions of the profession.

Mrs. Zanger has been involved with puppetry since 1961. Her parents, who entertained audiences throughout the country for many years, opened the Christmas season at Vandeventer's downtown store in St. Louis from 1940 until Mr. Proctor's death in 1961. Miami began taking part in the show when she was nine.

She and her husband Jules, an SIU English professor, and their children have continued the Proctor tradition of puppetry. Prof. Zanger will assist his wife in the Sunday afternoon benefit performance, to which the public is invited.

Donations for adults will be $1. For those below the junior high school level, donations will be 75 cents. Proceeds will be used to buy rare books and special materials for Lovejoy Library. Tickets can be obtained in advance at the SIU information center in the University Center or the Friends of the Library office. They will be on sale at the theater door the afternoon of the show.

New Youth Club To Hear Police Chief

People in Action for the Community (PAC), a newly-organized informal discussion group for high school and college age youth, will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Tri-Cities YMCA club rooms, to hear an address by Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer of Granite City.

The police department's top ranking officer will discuss the topic, "Law Enforcement in Granite City." Any young person interested in the varied aspects of law enforcement is invited to attend the program.

Mike Tarr, PAC chairman, announced today. The PAC group, organized at the "Y" about one month ago, is geared to provide informative programs, with special emphasis on those appealing to today's youth. Tarr said. Two weeks ago, an attorney appeared before the group to describe processes of the judicial system.

Mark Buenger Ties National Swim Mark

Mark Buenger, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buenger, 2124 Lindell Blvd., and a member of the Tri-Cities Area YMCA Tidal Waves swim team, tied the National AAU record for the 50-yard breaststroke event in competition this week at Forest Park Community College, St. Louis.

The local youth completed the event in 30.6 seconds to match the national mark in age group swimming. In achieving the tie, Mark broke his own Ozark AAU record which he established only last week in a Thanksgiving Day weekend meet at the same pool, with a time of 31.2 seconds. He also held the previous record for the same event.

The Granite City swimmer has at least one opportunity at a Jan. 2 meet to break the national record before becoming ineligible due to age requirements, swim team officials reported.

Sixteen local swimmers were entered in the "All-Around Swim Meet," sponsored by the American Swim Association of St. Louis yesterday. The age group tournament will resume this weekend, with competition scheduled both Saturday and Sunday at the Community College.

St. Elizabeth Student Writes 'Thankful' Paper

(Editors note: The following is a composition written by Mary Lou Fabry, an eighth grade student at St. Elizabeth school.)

By MARY LOU FABRY

There are so many things in this world that I can be thankful for.

I can be thankful that I am alive, living in this world which holds so many adventures. I am grateful for my parents, who give up a lot for me, and who are concerned about me and love me. I'm glad I have a brother and two sisters because living with them teaches me how to live in this world with other people. I am grateful for a roof over my head and food on the table because others are not so fortunate as I. I can see God in this world, in all that He made. Everything reflects God's image. I thank Him for the beauty of nature. I thank Him for my senses by which I can fully appreciate the beauty of nature.

Through my ears I hear birds singing, children laughing, and grass and trees blowing in the wind. Through my eyes I can see the leaves on the trees turning colors, the beauty of sunset and sunrise, and all colors which only God can create in nature.

Through my nose I can smell good food, grass newly mowed and the air after it has rained. By my tongue I can taste bitter, sweet, delicious, flat, spicy and many more.

And by my hands I can feel the roughness of a board, the softness of a furry kitten, the sharpness of a knife and the smoothness of a pebble. For all of these things I thank God.

I thank Him also for an education, my chance to learn all I can and get somewhere in this world. I thank Him for construction men who built this school, layman who paid for it, the teachers and the principal. I am grateful for the country I live in. The United States is a prospering nation, one with advanced methods of industry, agriculture, transportation and communication. I am thankful for our free democratic government, a government by the people, and for the people.

I am thankful for the freedom here in speaking, buying and selling of property, running of business, freedom of press, and most important of all, freedom of worship. Because that is what life is all about. Everything is based on religion and a man without religion is lost. These things are gifts of God and we have them only because of Him. So the things that we should be the most grateful for is that God is alive.

Personal Crisis Center Planned at State U.

A "personal crisis" communication center, to provide assistance and information by telephone to persons in need of varying forms of help, is being established in Bloomington-Normal through cooperation of Illinois State University and the newly-formed McLean County Alcohol and Drug Assistance Unit.

The center will be manned by volunteers trained to assist callers or to direct them to local agencies which can provide appropriate types of aid or care for the person's individual problem. Volunteers will be prepared to handle calls which may range from persons who are alcoholics, drug users "on a bad trip," an individual contemplating suicide, or persons in need of mental or medical attention.

Dr. Stanley Escott, associate dean of student clinical services at ISU, one of the organizers of the program, said the center will operate 24 hours a day, 32 weeks a year. He estimated that 40 trained, qualified volunteers will be necessary to maintain this schedule, with at least two persons on duty at all times. It is hoped to have the center operating within a month.

Music Auditions Set, Scholarship Prizes

Musically talented high school seniors are invited to participate in two auditions for scholarships at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

The first audition is scheduled for Jan. 16, the second for April 17. A limited number of full-tuition scholarships will be available to those who qualify. Awards cover the cost of tuition. They do not cover student fees, which amount to about $50 per quarter.

It is not essential to be a music major to win one of the scholarships, according to Robert Schieber, chairman of the music scholarship committee. Applications will be held in the Communications Building and prospective students and those transferring from another college to SIU-SW may audition on either the January or April date, Schieber said.

Application blanks for the auditions can be secured by writing Schieber in care of the Faculty of Music, Southern Illinois University, 1200 Edwardsville, 62025. Forms for the Jan. 16 auditions must be returned by Jan. 5. Schieber said. Deadline for the April 17 auditions is April 1.

Offer Masters in Education at SIU-SW

A graduate program leading to the master's degree in education is being offered at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern to accommodate area foreign language teachers.

According to Prof. Dan Romani, chairman of the foreign languages and literature faculty, 16 to 32 hours of graduate level work in one of these languages can be applied as credit toward the master's degree.

In order to serve area teachers, late afternoon or night courses for all quarters of the courses for all quarters of the academic year are scheduled in each of the three languages. Courses are scheduled for each quarter in each language so that a candidate for the degree may take enough work over a two-year period to satisfy the requirements for a concentration in any of the three languages for the advanced degree, Romani said.

The following graduate courses have been scheduled for the winter quarter, which opens Jan. 4: French-Seminar in Contemporary French Literature; Seminar on a Selected French Author; German-Romanticism I, Romanticism II, Spanish-Seminar on a Selected Spanish Author (Cervantes) and The Spanish Ballads.

Applications for admission to the graduate school are available from the Office of Graduate Studies, SIU Southwestern 62025.

Two Ways to Figure Auto Expenses In Setting Income Tax Deductions

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q) My job requires me to keep in fairly close touch with some of my customers. To do this I must use my own car.

Are my car costs deductible if I'm not reimbursed for them?

A) The use of your car on company business is a deductible expense to the extent that you are not reimbursed by your company.

Driving back and forth from home to work, however, is a personal expense and not deductible.

Many taxpayers find that the standard mileage rate of 12 cents per mile for the first 15,000 miles and 9 cents a mile thereafter is a convenient way to figure this deduction.

It only requires a reading of your speedometer at the beginning and end of your business driving.

Parking fees and tolls may be added to the mileage costs.

If you prefer, you may deduct the actual expenses of operating your car.

Included depreciation, insurance and similar costs but be sure to prorate them between the business and personal use of the car.

Q) For some years I've provided a home for my father. If he moves to a nursing home because of ill health, will we still be able to claim him as a dependent?

A) A close relative does not have to be a member of your household to qualify as a dependent.

In the situation you describe, as long as the other dependency tests are met you may continue to claim your father as a dependent.

Furthermore, if your father is in a nursing home primarily because of the medical care he receives, the entire cost of his maintenance is considered a medical expense.

If persons for family reasons prompted the decision for him to enter the home, only those expenses specifically for medical care will be considered deductible medical expenses.

Q) Can I deduct the pledge I made to my church's building fund drive?

A) No. However, you may deduct the amount you actually paid this year on your pledge as a charitable contribution.

That part of your pledge which is paid in succeeding years may be deducted when paid.

Parts of 1870 Constitution Would Prevail If Propositions Lose Out

(1870 Illinois Constitutional Convention)

The concluding portion of the proposed Illinois Constitution to be voted on Dec. 15 is the ADOPTION SCHEDULE.

Section 6. If neither Proposition 1A nor 1B is approved but the proposed Constitution is approved, the following provisions shall be inserted:

(C) There shall be fifty-nine Representative Districts. Three Representatives shall be elected in each Representative District in 1872 and every two years thereafter. The term of office shall be two years. In all elections of Representatives aforesaid, each qualified voter may cast as many votes as there are candidates as he shall find, or may distribute the same, or equal parts thereof, among the candidates as he shall find, and the candidates highest in votes shall be declared elected.

Subsections (c), (d) and (e) of Section 2 of Article IV of the 1870 Constitution shall be renumbered as Subsections (b), (c) and (d) of Section 2 of the 1870 Constitution.

(b) If neither Proposition 2A nor Proposition 2B is approved by the electors, but the proposed Constitution of 1870 is approved by the electors as provided by the Constitution of 1870 as amended, Section 12 of Article VI of the 1870 Constitution of 1870 shall be deleted, and the provisions of Sections 10 and 11 of Article VI of the Constitution of 1870 as amended, as conformed to the other provisions of Article VI of the proposed Constitution of 1870, shall remain in effect and be inserted as Section 12 of the Constitution of 1870 as amended.

These provisions as so conformed shall read as follows:

SECTION 12. ELECTION OR SELECTION—RETENTION IN OFFICE.

All of the judges provided for herein shall be elected by the electors at a general election and elected at general elections by the electors in the respective judicial districts, judicial circuits, counties or units.

Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide by law for the election and tenure of all judges provided herein as distinguished from nomination and election by the electors.

But no law establishing a method of selecting judges and providing for their tenure shall be adopted or amended except by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each House.

Nor shall any method of selecting judges be adopted which lecting judges and providing their tenure become law until the expiration of the term of selection be first submitted to the electors at the next general election.

A majority of those voting upon the question shall favor the method of selection or tenure as submitted if it shall then become law.

The office of any judge shall be deemed vacant upon his death, resignation, rejection, removal or retirement.

Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of judge, the vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term by the voters at an election as above provided for the electors, or in such other manner as the General Assembly may provide by law as set out in this section.

Whenever an additional judge is authorized by law, the office shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term by the voters at an election as above provided for the electors, or in such other manner as the General Assembly may provide by law as set out in this section.

Not less than six months prior to the general election of the electors, any judge previously elected may file in the office of the Secretary of State a declaration of candidacy to succeed himself, and the Secretary of State, not less than 90 days prior to the election, shall certify such candidacy to the proper election officials.

At the election the name of each judge who has filed such a declaration shall be submitted to the voters, and the electors, on the sole question whether he shall be retained in office for another term.

The elections shall be conducted in the appropriate judicial districts, circuits, counties and units.

The electors shall vote on the question shall elect him to the office for another term commencing the first Monday in December following the election.

Any judge who does not file a declaration within the time herein specified, or, having filed, fails of re-election, shall vacate his office at the expiration of his term, whether or not his successor, who shall be selected for a full term pursuant to this Section shall yet have qualified.

Any law reducing the number of judges of the Appellate Court in any District or the number of Circuit Judges in any Circuit, shall be void.

The right of judges in office at the time of its enactment to seek retention in office as herein above provided.

three times the number of vacancies, the governor then appointing one of the three; in the event he did not do so, the Illinois Supreme Court would make the appointment properly from the same list. Judges seeking retention would run unopposed, needing 60% to win.

Those who favor continuing to elect judges in this manner correctly say that no procedure can remove "politics" entirely. But the degree to which it is removed could be important to citizens, who badly need the best possible judges regardless of political clout or partisan appeals.

A considerable safeguard against excessive nomination-process influence by politically-oriented lawyers is that a majority on all selection commissions would be non-lawyers. Attorneys would make up a substantial minority on each commission, however, since they are knowledgeable on the ability, reputation and ethics of various members of their profession.

Proposition 2B could be a giant step forward for the cause of justice. Illinoisans planning to vote "Yes" on the proposed constitution may well find 2B to be the best of the three possible directions that could be taken by their state court system.

All Should Support Major Illinois Airport Or Region May Be Bypassed In Future Years

"If the (second major metropolitan) airport is not built on the Illinois side, it will be built at the Major Ceramotes of St. Louis said Monday. His statement is undoubtedly true, and it is timely because three days earlier St. Louis aldermen had begun formal consideration of a bill authorizing their city's participation in joint development and operation of a $350,000,000 Illinois-St. Louis facility.

Also timely was this week's decision by John H. Shaffer, administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration, rejecting a Missouri request for U.S. funds to study possible Missouri sites for a new airport to serve the St. Louis area.

As Shaffer noted, "In view of the considerable study and analysis which already have been carried out on this subject—and rather clear indications of the desirability of an Illinois site as opposed to one in Missouri—the study agencies are of the opinion that it would be an appropriate use of funds to participate in further analysis of a matter that has been studied almost to the point of exhaustion."

Promising to take both Missouri and Illinois interests into account in the airport's development, the FAA administrator pointed out to the Missouri aviation director that the proposed new landing field would not only be the national aviation system but to the continued economic progress of this region.

Unless this two-state area collectively accomplishes the goal of establishing a common airport to augment Lambert-St. Louis Airport during the next decade, it will soon be bypassed by businesses and institutions in favor of the metropolitan areas which do provide fully adequate and convenient air travel accommodations.

Discussing the continuing opposition by some Missourians, Mayor Cervantes says that "what they really want is nothing but the will stop fighting" the joint undertaking by the state of Illinois, city of St. Louis, federal government and affected airlines. "We hope he and we can use the use of advocates of state cooperation to begin practicing what they preach."

Clear Thinking During the Emergency at Granite City High School

To the Editor: Principal Lawrence McCauley and his staff are doing a superb job. Here is why it is true.

Fond memories of my high school years remain as clear as today. It seems that our graduation day was only last year.

I was shocked and grief-stricken when the TV news showed the fire at my alma mater as my husband and I were leaving the school.

Immediately, I jumped up and said, "That's my school!" and I was being destroyed. Instead of the high school burning.

Mr. Noth, who discovered the fire and initiated instant action, was to be commended.

I believe I speak for every alumnus and student when I say:

"Dear teachers, students and employees, thanks. Thanks a million for getting yourselves and the records out safely."

"We appreciate your clear thinking in an emergency and your fast and correct action."

Mr. McCauley, this fire sheds light on your competent administrative practices and the effectiveness of your teaching program.

My appreciative thoughts have gone out to you and all my other wonderful teachers during this crisis.

I might decide to go to medical school someday!

FEARS STATE WOULD GAIN WEAPONRY POWER

This is in defense of the "Save Our State—" brochure which is being distributed all over Illinois. Every word in this brochure has been very carefully documented. The writers are not right-wing extremists as they are in need of mental treatment.

Some who favor the proposed constitution by the statement found in the brochure concerning the elimination of counties (Article VII, sec. 2a) is simply a fact. Here is why it is true.

The General Assembly will have no "home rule" and "non-home rule" unit counties.

Counties could be "encouraged" to merge or to be dissolved the same way school districts were so "encouraged" to merge.

Article VII, sec. 12 also reads that the state will finance the cost of any dissolution, merger, etc., that is, if the super planners should so desire that such be done.

In fact, the state will have awesome power over all governmental units. Article VII, sections 6-2, 6g, 6h, 6i, and 6j restrict home rule units to a point they will have very little power of their own. Also, read Article IX, sec. 10.

Section 6i does give to Home Rule units unlimited spending and bonding power without referendum to finance only special improvement projects. Who would want this?

Who would want to be so concerned with the wishes and desires of the people because, for all practical purposes, they will be bowing to the General Assembly.

The General Assembly will control our state like no state has ever before been controlled. Why? Because they will control our money and our property (Article IX, sec. 1).

"Save Our State—" is the only piece of literature I have seen which specifically cites the sections having to do with each statement therein.

On top of this, the "Save Our State—" brochure is receiving harsh criticism because it is telling the story just like you would like to hear it.

ALICE W. YOUNT Edwardsville, Ill.

CITES TAXING POWER IN NEW CONSTITUTION

To the Editor: All I read in the newspapers on the new Constitution is ways for the legislators and governor to vote new methods of raising taxes:

1. Unlimited home rule taxing power.

2. Revenue article adds taxing and spending powers.

In Illinois, working people carry most of the taxes—the state income tax, the sales tax, the property tax, etc. If the super planners should so desire that such be done.

On top of this, our legislators are earning something like $100 million per month.

Uncontrolled imports causing unemployment

To the Editor: I send you my congratulations and thank you for your excellent presentation and coverage of international and local issues. I would also like to suggest that from time to time you publish editorials urging the people to become more familiar with their elected representatives. In fact, I think they should know the names and addresses of our congressmen periodically.

Of vital interest to all people is a current bill sponsored by

Winter Wonderland

Record

It is a pleasure to be able to announce such expansions of our services to readers, particularly in the knowledge that they are truly in addition to, rather than in place of, other services.

There will be continued strong emphasis on local news and pictures as well as detailed reports on Madison County and state governmental doings affecting the Quad-Cities.

Some southern newspapers attempt to "cover Dixie like the dew."

We have the same devotion to thorough Quad-City area coverage, as illustrated by our account last week of the unfortunate fire at Granite City High School.

Press-Record newsmen were on the scene within a few minutes of the first alarm.

Patrick of this newspaper's advertising staff was the first to arrive at the scene.

The telephone continued to ring "off the wall" the rest of the afternoon, we learned later, as local residents who noticed the flashing school called to make sure we were aware of the fire.

Meanwhile, two newsmen who had completed their workday prior to the time of the fire went to the scene on their own initiative, increasing the available news-photography team to five.

Thirteen staff photos were taken in the Dec. 3 issue, including the four dramatic scenes presented on the front page, figures and aerial views of the fire also were given in extensive detail.

Although news includes many other kinds of happenings, such as the state governmental and court deliberations referred to earlier, events like the high school fire undoubtedly stand out most vividly in our recollections of the past quarter century.

These were the times in 1945 when we spent a couple of hours covering what may rank as the greatest parade in Quad-City history, the march commemorating the 12th anniversary of the Granite City Army depot.

A post-parade speaking program on the Depot parade grounds was disrupted on an apparently ideal summer afternoon by the arrival of a sudden windstorm of unusual ferocity.

Temporary grandstands still filled with spectators were overturned, causing numerous injuries.

A cloudburst drenched those hurt, those rendering aid and those photographing the tragedy with soaked but still serviceable Press-Record cameras.

The photographing the tragedy with soaked but still serviceable Press-Record cameras.

The wreckage was precariously rearranged and balanced by a large crane while lightning struck hard for hundreds of volunteers would be rescued.

Not all our news tasks are so arduous or so sad or so lengthy (the explosion was the only time we have found it necessary to stay active for nearly 48 hours in a row without sleep).

But day in and day out, we are endeavoring to be prepared to respond to the full range of news challenges which may arise at any time in our field, we are directing our total attention to the needs and wishes of the reading public.
